

When It's Hog-Killing Time Down South: Picture Shows Annual Event at Goodlett, a Tradition for 75 Years

SHOT IN THE RAIN LAST TUESDAY WAS THIS scene on the Soman Goodlett farm at Goodlett, north of Ozan. Hog-killing at the Goodlett farm traditionally takes place on December 10, weather permitting — and once they started Tuesday morning the rain didn't stop 'em.

NOWADAYS THIS IS A RARE SCENE HANDED down from old plantation days. Hog-killing has been a big-scale operation at Goodlett for 75 years. The farm was purchased by the Goodletts' grandfather just after the War Between the States, and he started out by slaughtering 40 to 60 hogs. LAST TUESDAY'S KILL WAS 8 HOGS. TOTAL weight was 2,000 to 2,500 pounds, producing 400 pounds of sausage, 60 gallons of lard, 16 hams, 2 bushels of cracklings — and all the trimmings.

HERE ARE THE PEOPLE IN THE PICTURE — all the Negroes having been born and reared on the Goodlett farm or in the community: Soman Goodlett, Robert Goodlett, Clodie Booker, Charlie Swift, Cage Stuart, Ira Graves, Ruth Graves, Ruben Swift, Rosie Bell Swift, Mamie Booker, M. C. Swift, Taylor Scroggins, Elmer Walker, Remous Taylor.

Brutal War Criminal Out of Prison

TACOMA, Wash. (AP) — After 16 years in prison, Tomaya (The Meatball) Kawakita, convicted war criminal left for Japan today, a free man but stateless.

Kawakita, convicted of treasonable brutality while an interpreter for a Japanese prisoner-of-war camp in World War II, was granted freedom by the late President Kennedy in one of Kennedy's last official acts. Kennedy granted leniency on the condition Kawakita leave the United States and never return.

Shorn of both Japanese and U.S. citizenship, Kawakita, 42, could not get a passport. After a month of negotiations, Japan authorized him entry as a "stateless person."

The native Californian departed nearby McNeil Island Federal Penitentiary late Wednesday. Kawakita was taken to the Seattle - Tacoma International Airport and released to Japanese consular officials.

He said he was very glad to get out of prison and was grateful to Kennedy. He said he had studied electronics in prison and would begin a new life in Japan with the help of cousins and friends there. Six hours later he left his native land forever.

Born in Calexico, Calif., Kawakita went to Japan in 1939 to study. Convicted in 1948 of eight counts of treasonable brutality against Allied prisoners, Kawakita was sentenced to death and sent to Alcatraz Federal Penitentiary.

Former President Eisenhower commuted the sentence to life imprisonment, and Kawakita was transferred to McNeil Island.

He lost his Japanese citizenship when Japan disclaimed him after the war. He lost his United States citizenship following his conviction as a traitor.

Earth Just Swallows 4 Men, 3 Homes

ST. JOACHIM DE TOURELLE, Que. (AP) — A huge earth movement Wednesday night swallowed up four brothers in a truck and three hillside homes, demolished a highway bridge and carried four other homes.

Except for the brothers, no other deaths were reported in the sudden earth shift in this small Gaspe Peninsula community 275 miles northeast of Quebec. But the situation was so confused that officials said there may have been more fatalities.

A pit 150 feet deep and a half square mile in area was opened in the Tourelle Creek Valley 500 to 1,000 feet above the Gaspe Highway.

Quebec provincial police said a car also was swallowed up by the earth movement but that its occupants — a couple — were pulled out of the mud by rope.

The truck carrying the brothers vanished. They were identified as Johnny Therrien, 32; and his brothers, Raymond 28; Benoit, 22, and Onesime, 20.

Constable Martin Gauthier said fishermen in three boats rescued at least six persons from the houses swept into the river. No other occupants were believed lost.

The disaster came at 5:30 p.m. with a trembling of the earth.

An elderly woman whose house was carried away said she barely had time to left up the telephone and ask the operator to get help. Within moments water swirled up to her knees. She fled the dwelling just before it was swept away amid chunks of earth as big as the house.

The giant earth movement also tore up a portion of a secondary road on which the truck and car were traveling. The thick grey mud moved down the hillside into the bed of Tourelle Creek and into the St. Lawrence River.

On its way it knocked out the 50-foot Gaspe Highway bridge that crosses the creek just before it feeds into the St. Lawrence.

It was a near-zero, stormy night and police had to use ski-equipped vehicles.

A Red Cross volunteer from nearby Ste. Anne Des Monts described the disaster scene: "There was a gap in the highway. No one could get across. People were standing on both sides, scared and afraid. There were no light, no telephones, nothing. It was terrible, very, very cold and windy."

Cold Wave Shoulders Into State

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

A cold wave shouldered its way into Arkansas today, nudging rain clouds temporarily off the way and dropping temperatures to below freezing in most sections of the state.

But a freezing drizzle had returned to South Arkansas by daylight and more rain and light snow flurries were forecast for the entire state today.

A brief, light flurry of snow was reported Wednesday night at Walnut Ridge and State Police reported patches of ice on the roads at Harrison and Jasper.

No roads were closed, however.

The forecast called for cloudy to partly cloudy through Friday with some scattered light snow and freezing drizzle tonight and again Friday morning; turning much colder tonight and Friday. High temperatures today were predicted in the 30s, lows tonight near 15 northwest to 32 southeast.

Overnight lows dipped to 19 at Fayetteville and readings in the low 20s were common in the northern section of the state. Elsewhere minimums were barely above the freezing point.

State Case Completed in Murder Trial

NASHVILLE, Ark. (AP) — The state completed its case Wednesday in the third first-degree murder trial of Edward Walton Jr. after an all-white, all-male jury was qualified for the death penalty.

Robert Coulter, a Negro of Nashville, was seated as an alternate juror for the Howard Circuit Court trial.

Walton, 32, a Negro of Ashdown, twice has been convicted and sentenced to death in the shooting of Roy Hallman, 61, a nightwatchman at an Ashdown service station June 20, 1959.

Both previous convictions were overturned by higher courts, but Walton has spent the last four years in death row of Tucker State Prison Farm.

Some defense witnesses took the stand Wednesday.

State witnesses Wednesday linked Walton to a pistol which L. L. Paul McDonald of the State Police testified was used in the Hallman shooting.

Sheriff Audrey Thrash of Little River County testified that he loaned the pistol to Hallman after Hallman became a special nightwatchman at the station.

26 Military Bases to Close, One Is Chaffee

WASHINGTON (AP) — Secretary of Defense Robert S. McNamara announced today that in an economy action, he had ordered 26 military bases in the United States and 7 bases overseas to be closed or substantially reduced.

McNamara told a news conference, "I have every reason to believe that studies now under way will lead to further reductions in the coming months."

The defense secretary said that, when the 33 bases are closed or reduced over a period of up to 3½ years, he expects annual savings of $106 million.

The move will cut off 8,600 civilian jobs and result in a reduction of about 7,800 military personnel, McNamara said.

Every civilian employee whose job is eliminated will be offered another job opportunity, McNamara promised.

By FRED S. HOFFMAN

WASHINGTON (AP) — Secretary of Defense Robert S. McNamara, beset by furious congressmen, was expected to announce today economy-induced plans to close or reduce operations at 25 to 27 military bases in about 16 states.

Reports from congressional sources late Wednesday forecast shutdown of more than 30 installations, with the loss of 75,000 jobs.

But it was learned McNamara's action will affect several bases fewer than that, and result in abolition of 9,000 to 12,000 jobs.

There were indications the bases, large and small, would be phased out over perhaps three years.

No naval shipyards were on the list.

Croxtan Is Silent on His Plans

LITTLE ROCK (AP) — State Rep. Hardy Croxtan of Benton County side stepped again Wednesday night the question of whether he would run for governor, but he talked of what he would like to do if elected.

Croxtan said a new governor is needed to replace one who now is heading a "lethargic and careless" administration.

The main trouble with the administration of Gov. Orval E. Faubus is that "new ideas are non-existent," Croxtan said. He said he saw no hope for governmental reform through the legislature as long as Faubus is in power.

Croxtan appeared on "Face Your State," a panel television program on KTHV, channel 11 at Little Rock.

He said his major program if elected governor would be to push for improvement in education. He said education and roads should be the two major functions of government.

On gambling at Hot Springs, Croxtan said he would keep the position he now has: That is illegal and Hot Springs should not be allowed to violate laws that are enforced in other areas.

Records Studied for the Trouble

CAPE KENNEDY, Fla. (AP) — Radio flight records, especially those on the control system of the first stage, are being studied by engineers seeking the trouble which sent a Polaris A3 missile off course Wednesday night.

The missile was fired from the surface ship Observation Island but veered from the planned path and was destroyed by the range safety officer after 53 seconds of flight.

5,000 at Chaffee to Move Out

FT. CHAFFEE, Ark. (AP) — The Army disclosed in a news conference today that Ft. Chaffee, home of the 5,000-man 3rd Corps Army Artillery, would be closed.

Maj. Gen. Teddy Sanford, post commander, said the deactivation would be completed by June 1965.

Sanford said new assignments for the 5,000 men have not been released by the Defense Department.

Gov. Orval E. Faubus said earlier in the day he had learned Chaffee might be closed in a Defense Department economy move.

The Army said some 700 civilian employees would be out of jobs at Chaffee because of the move. But he said career employees who want to stay with the Army will be moved at government expense to other installations.

There was no mention of the 19th U.S. Army Corps, which is headquartered at Chaffee to administer the Reserve programs in Arkansas, Louisiana and Oklahoma.

Chaffee has about 1,000 civilian employees. It was thought that some might be kept at Chaffee to work with the 19th Corps if it remains there.

No Shortage in County Records

LITTLE ROCK (AP) — No shortage was reported for the second straight year in the audits of county officials in Arkansas.

The reports for 1962 were compiled by field auditors of the County Audit Division of the state comptroller's office.

Aubrey McCasland, head of the division, said the auditors will begin checking 1963 accounts in January.

The 1962 audit reports show the 75 counties collected $77,923,328 in taxes during the year, ranging from $14,586,258 in Pulaski County to $85,057 in Newton County.

The audit covers the accounts of the county judge, collector, assessor, county clerk and circuit clerk in each county.

Stolen Pencils a Big Burden

CINCINNATI (AP) — A few stolen pencils can be a mighty big burden on the conscience.

The Board of Education received an anonymous letter this week from Whittier, Calif., containing $1 for "used, soft lead, art cork pencils" taken from the Sherman Elementary School 48 years ago.

Big Snowstorm Spreads Across the Nation

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS
A vast snow storm spread a blanket of white across wide areas in the northern half of the nation today from the Rockies into the Northeast.

Subzero cold added misery to the pre-winter storm in many parts of the Midwest. No immediate general break in the wintry weather was indicated in the snow-covered North Central region and heavy snow headed into Northeast sections. Blizzard conditions were indicated in the Dakotas, Minnesota and parts of eastern Montana.

The storm, striking 10 days before the start of the winter season, swept eastward from the midlands. Heavy snow and hazardous driving warnings were issued for northeastern New York, Massachusetts, Rhode Island and northern New England, with amounts ranging up to a half-foot.

The current storm, which developed in the southern Rockies, was blamed for at least 11 traffic deaths, including four in Oklahoma which was hit hard by heavy snow and gusty winds. Five persons were killed in traffic accidents in Illinois and two

Kenya Gets Freedom From British

By ADRIAN POTER
NAIROBI, Kenya (AP) — Nearly 100,000 Africans whistled, sang and cheered today as Kenya became Africa's 35th independent nation.

But even as the shouts of "Uhuru" (Freedom) echoed through the streets of this former British colonial capital. Monumental problems confronted the new nation. It must conquer frontier warfare, tribal rivalries and economic difficulties.

When the Union Jack was hauled down and Kenya's flag of black, red and green went up amid wild jubilation at Nairobi's Freedom Stadium, Britain relinquished its last colonial holding in East Africa.

The Africans roared with delight and Kenya's Prime Minister Jomo Kenyatta joyously waved his flywhisk — an African symbol of authority — at the midnight ceremony.

The wives of white settlers wept and their husbands swallowed hard as they considered their future as a minority of 50,000 in a nation of 8.5 million Africans.

Forty-eight hours earlier, the spice island of Zanzibar, just to the south, received its independence in a similar ceremony ending 73 years of British protection. Both countries will remain in the British Commonwealth.

Britain's Prince Philip represented his wife, Queen Elizabeth II, and both celebrations.

Kenyatta, the legendary "burning spear" of the Mau Mau terror a decade ago, is no longer the firebrand who headed the African nationalist movement and spent eight years in British detention. Now 73, Kenyatta has called on his nation to forgive and forget the bitterness of the past as it wrestles with its problems.

Kenyatta accepted from Prince Philip the formal instruments of independence enacted by the British Parliament.

In the same ceremony, Kenya's governor, Malcolm MacDonald, became governor general — the representative of the British crown — and then swore in Kenyatta and his Cabinet.

Kenyatta responded with a speech pledging his country not to align with any power bloc and saying he wanted no aid with strings attached.

the list of Army, Navy and Air Force bases due to be axed or reduced in scope.

Rumors Wednesday said McNamara would move to close naval shipyards in Boston, Philadelphia and San Francisco. One base in Ohio also was mentioned.

House Speaker John W. McCormack, D-Mass., acting for the entire Massachusetts delegation, carried to President Johnson Wednesday night a bipartisan protest against rumored closing of the Boston Navy Yard.

Other protests rained on the White House from Pennsylvania, California, New York and other state congressional groups.

Johnson has emphasized economy since succeeding the late President John F. Kennedy Nov. 22.

Johnson told a news conference last Saturday he and McNamara were making a study of defense installations to determine which could be eliminated as a way of curbing spending.

This base survey program predated Johnson's rise to the presidency by about 2½ years. It was inaugurated by McNamara in March 1961, about two months after the Kennedy administration took office.

At that time, the Pentagon listed 6,700 bases and installations of various sorts, about 4,500 of them in this country and the rest abroad.

Since March 1961, the Defense Department says, more than 400 installations have been closed or reduced in scope. Claimed savings: about $316 million a year.

McNamara told Congress last January his goal was to take more such actions, so that by the end of the fiscal 1965-June 30, 1965—the annual savings will be increased to $442 million.

5.4 Million Chicks Started

LITTLE ROCK (AP) — Arkansas producers started 5,404,000 broiler chicks during the week ended Dec. 7, the Crop Reporting Service estimated today, an increase of four per cent above the previous week.

Of the total placements in the state 4,804,000 chicks were hatched in Arkansas and 600,000 were shipped in.

Arkansas producers shipped 306,000 broiler chicks out of the state during the week.

The subzero bell covered areas in the Dakotas, Iowa, Nebraska, Kansas and Minnesota, with 11 below in Sioux Falls, S.D. The mercury ranged from zero to 10 above in parts of northern New England. There was some warming in parts of the eastern Rockies.

Snow depths ranged from 5 to 10 inches in the northern Midwest and 4 to 8 inches in the Great Lakes region.

Unseasonably cold weather was reported in most of the South Central section. Temperatures were near seasonal levels in the Far West with generally clear skies.

Bobkittens Go Into Meet Semifinals

By CARTER HARDABE
Hope Star Sports Writer

Last night the Junior Girls dropped out of the Bradley Tournament after a defeat by Bradley, but the Junior Boys ousted Plain Dealing, Louisiana, rather convincingly to go into the semi-finals.

The Bobkittens had little trouble whipping Plain Dealing 39-14, and earning themselves a match against Bradley tonight at 8:30 for the semi-finals. As of now, the Bradley Juniors are 3-0. Leading the Kittens to their feat of outpunting Bradley in every period were Dennis Turner, with 13 points, and Stannie Parris, who had 9. Hope kept P.D. from scoring a goal throughout the entire first period, and also in the third.

The Girls dropped their second game in as many starts, but nevertheless turned in a good against a very fine team, 36-25. They outscored Bradley during the second and third quarters, but the first and last turned out to be the difference. Barbara Thompson was again top sacker with 20 points to her credit.

Fans are reminded of the Senior Boys game Friday night in the Magnolia Tournament. They go against Fairview at 8:30. At home the "B" Boys and the Lady Cats face Guernsey.

Jockeys Are Particular About Pants

By GENE PLOWDEN

MIAMI (AP) — Jockeys are particular about their pants, and if you think that doesn't present a problem, ask Mrs. John D. Sheehy.

For 15 years this motherly-looking, middle-aged widow with a Tennessee twang in her voice has outfitted America's leading riders and her colors have been on everything from cheap claimers to Kentucky Derby winners.

She has two women helpers, and their workshop in a modest home on the outskirts of Miami is crammed with cutting and sewing machines, patterns, helmets and bolts of silk and nylon in all colors.

In addition to jockey pants and caps, Mrs. Sheehy turns out shirts in the colors of thoroughbred stables and blinker hoods for horses.

While much of Mrs. Sheehy's business comes by telephone, telegram or mail, many jockeys call in person to try on their pants and insist on a perfect fit from waistband to ankles. They sell for $35 a pair.

The pants must be fitted so they won't sag when the jockey walks out into the paddock but won't bind when he mounts a spirited thoroughbred and draws his knees up under his chin. There must be room to pump those tiny legs in the heat of competition, too.

The pants are made without belt loops or pockets, with an adjustable strap in back and buttons in front. The tops are of nylon but they're elastic from calf to ankle and fit snugly around the lower leg.

A rule of the Jockey Club calls for riders to wear helmets, and Mrs. Sheehy makes caps to fit these.

Shirts are made in one size, full in the shoulders with ample room for action. If the sleeves are too long, the boys tuck them up with rubber bands around the wrists.

Neil Sheehy once worked in a garment factory in her home town of Milan, Tenn., and John Sheehy owned horses. After their marriage they traveled from track to track by trailer.

Every time they pulled into a trailer park, word spread that a seamstress had joined the colony. At Narragansett Park in Massachusetts she made some jockey pants for Frank Harris, a jockey.

This led to their orders and when Sheehy's health failed, he sold his horses and said to his

Rice Salvages Some Pride for the SWC

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Rice salvaged Southwest Conference pride a bit by overpowering Florida State 102-81 in an intercollegiate basketball game Wednesday night.

Utah whipped Texas A&M 98-71, however, and that left the conference still trailing non-league foes. Outside have posted 15 victories, five more than the Southwest defenders have managed.

Florida State moves on to play Texas Christian at Fort Worth and Southern Methodist is on the road for a game with Iowa at Iowa City Thursday night.

Paced by the 30-point output of Larry Phillips, the Rice Owls downed visiting Florida State with comparative ease although 6-foot-10 Rice center Kendall Rhine was on the bench nearly half the game. Rice led 48-40 at halftime.

Rhine was charged with his fourth foul two minutes before the intermission and the Owls used him sparingly thereafter. He still contributed 24 points, Bill Phillips 16 points were high for Florida State.

Texas A&M's loss at Salt Lake City was the second straight to a Utah five. Utah State beat the touring Aggies 94-71 the night before. To offset the average three-inch height advantage of Texas A&M, the Utah Redskins employed an all-court press to confuse the Aggies and also out-rebounded them.

Utah jumped to a 15-3 lead after five minutes and made it 54-34 by halftime. George Fisher was top scorer with 23 points for Utah. Benny Lenox rang up 22 for Texas A&M.

Player of Year Plays for Vikings

By JACK HAND

Associated Press Sports Writer
NEW YORK (AP)—Paul Flatley, rangy split end of the Minnesota Vikings, was named Rookie of the Year in the National Football League Thursday by an Associated Press panel from 14 league cities.

The 6-foot-1, 187-pound former Northwestern star, ranked eighth among the top pass receivers in the league in the latest statistics. He had caught 51 passes for 867 yards and four touchdowns and was the only newcomer among the leaders.

The Vikings' scouting staff selected Flatley as the club's No. 4 draft a year ago at Chicago.

"Paul has great hands and uses his head," said Coach Norm Van Brocklin recently. "He has everything but blazing speed."

John Mackey, Baltimore's 6-3, 220-pound tight end from Syracuse, a No. 2 draftee, also received mention from several of the 42-man committee of sports writers and sportscasters, three from each NFL city.

Don Brumm, defensive end of the St. Louis Cardinals who made him their No. 1 draftee from Purdue, was outstanding despite injuries. Ron Goodwin, Philadelphia offensive end from Baylor, also impressed the panel after a slow start due to injuries.

Blevins Takes Two From Cale

The Blevins Junior boys kept record clean with a difficult 63-50 win over Cale Tuesday night. Hicks and Hugg had 17 each for Blevins. The Blevins Senior girls came up on the short end of a 46 to 35 score but the Blevins Senior boys posted their 9th win of the season, 58-43, over Cale. Steed was high with 15.

Guernsey Wins 2 of 3 From Emmet

Tuesday night Guernsey and Emmet played three games with the Hempstead team taking two. The Guernsey Junior boys eked out a 36-35 victory. Griffin had 15 for the winners and McBride tossed in 19 for Emmet.

Emmet Senior girls racked up a 39 to 32 win with Wake tossing in 19 for Emmet. Guernsey Senior boys easily posted a 56-32 win. Norvell made 15 points for Guernsey and Daniel 10 for Emmet.

Gilchrist Is Named Player of the Week

By MARVIN R. PIKE

BUFFALO, N. Y. (AP) — Cookie Gilchrist, who says he never has been interested in breaking records but does, won't say whether he expects to smash a few more Saturday.

The 248-pound Buffalo Bills fullback named American Football League Player of the Week Wednesday by The Associated Press, goes against the New York Jets—the same team he almost single-handedly pulverized Sunday in War Memorial Stadium. Buffalo won 45-14.

The second meeting will be in the Polo Grounds in New York City.

Gilchrist was sitting on the bench in the fourth quarter of Sunday's game when the announcement was made that he needed only 32 yards to break the AFL's single-game rushing record.

"I didn't have any reaction," he recalled Wednesday. "I would have preferred to have Jesse Murdock stay in but (Coach Lou) Saban ordered me back into the game."

Murdock, signed by the Bills Nov. 1, had replaced Gilchrist only a few minutes earlier. "When I got into the huddle, (quarterback Daryle) Lamonica told me, 'We're going to get you those 32 yards,'" Gilchrist said.

He picked up 16. On the next play, he carried 43 yards to the Jets' six but a penalty nullified the run.

"I didn't feel rejected," Gilchrist said. "I felt that if Lamonica gave me another chance I could get those yards."

Lamonica did, time and time again. When Gilchrist left the game in the final minutes, he had run 36 times for 243 yards, an all-pro mark and 27 yards better than the previous AFL effort.

Gilchrist also scored five touchdowns rushing, an AFL record, as was the number of carries.

Other stars in last weekend's AFL action included Oakland's Art Powell and Cotton Davidson, and Kansas City's Dave Grayson and Sherrill Headrick.

3 Top Ranked Teams Toppled in College Play

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

It was a Black Wednesday for the Duke Blue Devils, the Arizona State Sun Devils and the Ohio State Buckeyes, three of the top-ranked teams in college basketball. They tumbled in defeat before the Vanderbilt Commodores, the Bradley Braves and the Davidson Wildcats.

Only the victory of the Michigan Wolverines over Butler prevented a complete rout of the top-ranked clubs scheduled to play on a busy midweek national program. The seventh-ranked Wolverines upped their record to 4-0 with a 80-70 victory.

Vandy similarly made its record 4-0 with a 97-92 triumph over third-ranked Duke. So did Bradley by whipping the fourth ranked Sun Devils 92-85. Davidson also kept its slate clean at 4-0 with a whopping 95-73 triumph that shattered a 50-game home court streak for eighth-ranked Ohio State.

Vanderbilt, rated a title threat in the Southeastern Conference, blew a 16-point lead at Nashville when Duke rallied to tie the regulation game at 85-85 on Jeff Mullins' jump shot with four seconds left. But John Ed Miller broke loose for 10 points in the overtime to sew it up for the Commodores after the score was knotted at 89-89.

Arizona State also lost on the road at Peoria, blowing a 44-35 halftime lead as Bradley got hot in the second half.

It remained for Davidson, heralded as the Southern Conference champions to be, to provide the night's biggest surprise with its one-sided triumph over Ohio State. The Wildcats hit a sizzling 59 per cent of their shots and when their star, 6-foot-9 Fred Hetzel went out on foul with only 16 points, Dick Snyder and Terry Holland took up the slack. Snyder finished 25 points and Holland 22 to offset the 26 tallied by Gary Bradds for the Buckeyes. It was the first setback at St. John Arena in Columbus for Ohio State since Purdue won on March 7, 1959.

Staubach Gets Prized Grid Trophy

NEW YORK (AP)—Now hear this from Navy's Roger Staubach:

"I have a lot to learn about passing. I figure I'll learn a lot more about football in the next year and a half. I'm going to work hard next season. I hope we can improve on this season's record."

That comforting news for Navy's opponents came from the All-America quarterback Wednesday night when he accepted the Heisman Trophy award as the top football player in the country.

Staubach led Navy to a 9-1 record, a No. 2 national ranking and a spot in the Cotton Bowl against top-ranked Texas. Jolly Roger was asked how he figures he has "a lot to learn about passing."

"Lots of times I wait for my receiver to get in the open before I throw," he said. "That's wrong. The pros throw to where the receiver is supposed to be."

Did that mean Staubach was interested in a pro career?

"I have received questionnaires from professional football teams but I haven't talked to anyone because I still have a year and a half at the academy and then four years of service."

Among the other things, Staubach discussed was the best team he played against this season, and the support he received from the entire Navy team.

"I can't say enough about the support they gave me. Tom Lynch would do anything for me on the field or off and I feel the same way about him. If I hadn't been getting that second block I'd be scrambled eggs."

Lynch, the Navy captain, and Coach Wayne Hardin accompanied Staubach to the Heisman awards dinner. They left Staubach monopolize the talking but Hardin had this to say:

"I think we have the finest four backfield men ever put together although I'll admit I never saw the Four Horsemen in action. Staubach is a stick of dynamite. Johnny Sai runs the 100 in 9.7 and can break up any game. Pat Donnelly is the finest fullback the Navy ever had. Skip Orr is our leading pass receiver."

"But," he emphasized, "I can't say too much about Roger."

Neither could his father, Robert Staubach.

Arkansas Best Punt Returner

NCAA FB SAX
NEW YORK (AP) — It's getting to be a habit at Southern Methodist and Arkansas coming up with the national punting and punt-return champions.

Final season statistics by the NCAA Service Bureau today showed that Danny Thomas of SMU won the major college punting championship with an average of 44 yards for 48 kicks. He is the third SMU player to win the kicking title.

Ken Hatfield of Arkansas, a junior like Thomas, took the punt-return title with 350 yards for an average of 16.7 on 21 returns. He is the third Razorback to lead the nation in this category in the last four years.

Gary Wood of Cornell led in kickoff returns with average of 32.5 on 19 returns. Dick Kern of William and Mary took the pass interception crown with eight grabs.

SMU led in team punting with a 41.4 average. Army in team punt returns with 18.1 and Memphis State in team kickoff returns with 27.7.

Brown Just Had to Pass, It Worked

By MIKE RATHET

Associated Press Sports Writer
NEW YORK (AP)—The wind flushed Ed Brown's face as he stood on his own goal line in punt formation.

"We had to pass. There was no way we could punt. We had to get out of that hole," said Pittsburgh Coach Buddy Parker. "Everyone knew what they were going to do. They had to run or throw," said Dallas Coach Tom Landry.

Brown took the snap from center. He didn't punt. He passed.

Red Mack latched onto the pass for a 42-yard gain, and the Steelers kept rolling until Terrence Sapp holted 24 yards for the touchdown that gave Pittsburgh a 24-19 victory and moved them into this Sunday's winner-take-all battle with the Giants for the Eastern Conference title.

For Brown's ability to successfully complete the gamble the first time he had attempted to pass from punt formation this season, the 10-year-veteran was named today National Football League Player of the Week by The Associated Press.

The Steelers' final drive was an amazing sequence, thrusting Brown, Mack and Sapp into the spotlight. Trailing 19-17, the Steelers started from the 20, but on fourth down the ball was four yards closer to the Pittsburgh goal, with about 3½ minutes remaining.

Brown's call was a pass to Mack.

Other standout performances were turned in by Baltimore quarterback Johnny Unitas, St. Louis signal-caller Charlie Johnson, Willie Baltimore of the Chicago Bears, Detroit quarterback Earl Morrall and New York defensive back Dick Lynch.

2nd Plane Witnessed the Crash

ELKTON, Md. (AP)—A government investigator said today another plane witnessed and reported the crash of a Pan American World Airways jet airliner Sunday.

The jet, a Boeing 707, exploded at 5,000 feet on its way to Philadelphia. All 73 passengers and 8 crew members were killed in the crash.

T.W. Finch, Civil Aeronautics Board investigator at the scene, said a co-pilot on National Airlines Flight 16 not only saw the explosion, but radioed the message to Philadelphia airport saying:

"Clipper two-one-four is going down in flames."

Finch said the National Airlines plane was about 1,000 feet above the jet in a severe electrical storm.

The message was originally thought to have come from a crew member on the ill-fated Pan American Flight 214.

The flight transcript, released Tuesday by the CAB, included the following final exchange:

Philadelphia Control: Okay Clipper 214. Hold as instructed and, ah, I'll pull you away as soon as I can.

Clipper 214: Roger, no hurry, just wanted you to know that, ah, we'll accept a clearance.

Control: All right, that's fine. Voice: Mayday, mayday, mayday. Clipper 214 out of control. Here we go.

Control: Clipper 214, did you call Philadelphia?

Voice: Clipper 214 is going down in flames.

Control: Clipper 214, Roger. Your message has been received.

Newsmen who had listened to a recording of the exchange in Elkton had remarked at the calmness of the voice.

Alan S. Boyd, chairman of the CAB, also referred to it, saying that the plane obviously was "being flown by a man who had great self control."

Price Supports To Continue

WASHINGTON (AP)—Cotton and rice growers voted overwhelmingly in separate referendums Tuesday for continuation of price support and marketing quota programs in the 1964 crop year.

When the Agriculture Department stopped tabulating, count on upland cotton stood at 215,729 for and 13,211 against, for a favorable percentage of 94.2.

That was the vote from 17 growing states with only Illinois, Kansas and Nevada missing. All three of those are small producers.

For extra long staple cotton the vote from five states was 790 for and 304 against, for a percentage of 7.2.

In 11 states, Rice growers had voted 7,371 for the support-quota program and 841 against, for a percentage of 89.8. Only the count from Illinois was missing.

For both upland cotton and rice, the tabulation from the start ran well over the two-thirds favorable vote needed to keep the programs in force.

Germans Insist on U.S. Rice

BRUSSELS, Belgium (AP)—West Germany insisted today that a door must be left open in the Common Market wall of tariffs and duties to permit it to keep on buying rice from the United States.

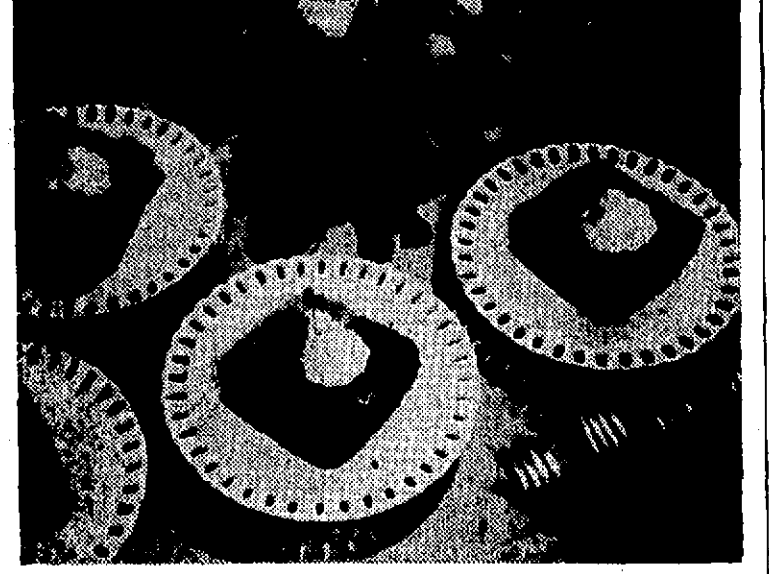

At issue before the market's agriculture ministers is a proposal to fix a minimum import price for rice making it 30 percent more costly than rice from France and Italy. These two are the only rice growers in the six-nation Common Market.

The dispute waxed so warm Tuesday that the French agricultural minister, Edgar Pisani, went back to Paris to report to President Charles de Gaulle.

Pisani angrily reminded his colleagues of De Gaulle's warning last summer that the Common Market might be wrecked if a joint farm policy is not settled by Jan. 1.

Returning from a morning cabinet meeting in Paris attended by De Gaulle, Pisani told reporters without elaboration: "I am returning with strict and precise instructions to negotiate."

Apple Torte, A Treat For Fall Appetites

Apple Torte is one of the nicest things that can happen to an apple — and this tempting dessert is the perfect way to top off a fall meal.

A change in season often brings a change in the dinner menu, and Apple Torte is especially economical to make now that apples are plentiful and in season.

With its combination of nuts and rich apple flavor, Apple Torte makes an ideal dinner or party dessert, and it will stay fresh until the last tasty bite. It can be served plain or with whipped cream, cinnamon ice cream or fluffy hard sauce.

The recipe for Apple Torte was developed by Rita Martin, director of International Milling Co.'s Robin Hood Flour test kitchen. Robin Hood Flour is pre-sifted to eliminate this bothersome step for the homemaker.

APPLE TORTE
(A Robin Hood Pre-sifted Flour Recipe)

2 cups peeled, chopped apples
1 cup chopped walnuts
1 cup ROBIN HOOD All-Purpose Flour
1 cup sugar

1 tsp. soda
½ tsp. salt
1 egg, well beaten
3 tbsp. melted butter
1 tsp. vanilla

COMBINE—prepared apples and nuts in bowl.
SPOON—flour (not sifted) into dry measuring cup. Level off and pour measured flour onto waxed paper.
ADD—sugar, soda & salt to flour (not sifted). Stir well to blend.
ADD—blended dry ingredients to apple mixture. Mix well.
COMBINE—egg, butter and vanilla in small bowl. Mix well.
ADD—liquid ingredients to blended dry ingredients and apple mixture. Stir until all ingredients are moistened. Batter will be stiff.

SPREAD—in well greased 9-inch square pan.
BAKE—at 350° for 45-50 minutes.
SERVE—plain or with whipped cream, cinnamon ice cream or fluffy hard sauce.

* If you use pre-sifted Robin Hood Flour omit salt.

Succession Laws Likely to Stand

By JAMES MARLOW
Associated Press News Analyst

WASHINGTON (AP) — John W. McCormack, 71-year-old speaker of the House, has just about put the finish on any chance of making it impossible for him to move up the presidential line.

President Johnson should die then, under present law, next in line to succeed him is McCormack of Massachusetts and 86-year-old Carl Hayden of Arizona, president pro tempore of the Senate. Both are Democrats.

In American history there have been only three laws controlling succession to the presidency: The first in 1792, the next in 1886, the last in 1947.

The founding fathers, when they put the Constitution together, ducked the problem of saying who should assume the powers of the presidency if the president and vice president died. They left it to Congress.

Congress passed its first act in this field in 1792. It put the Senate's president pro tempore and the speaker of the House next in succession behind the vice president.

It stayed that way undisturbed until President Garfield's assassination in 1881. At the time he was shot, it happened that the House had not chosen a speaker and the Senate had no president pro tempore. For five years there was discussion and debate.

Then in 1886 Congress changed the law, eliminating the two congressional officers and putting the president's Cabinet in line of succession, starting with the secretary of state.

Another 59 years passed and in April 1945, President Franklin D. Roosevelt died. Vice President Harry S. Truman became president. If Truman had died then, under the 1886 law, his successor would have been Secretary of State Edward R. Stettinius Jr.

On June 19, 1945, eight days before he accepted Stettinius' resignation, Truman asked Congress to change the 1886 law. He wanted the Cabinet taken out of direct line of succession.

He argued that under the 1886 law a president, since he picks his own Cabinet, could name his own successor. "I do not believe," he said, "that in a democracy this power should rest with the chief executive."

He said he thought that, as far as possible, the office of president should be filled by an elected officer, not an appointed one. So he asked Congress to abolish the 1886 act and return to the 1792 act, but with a switch.

Instead of making the Senate's president pro tempore next in line, Truman said the speaker of the House should come behind the vice president and then the Senate's president pro tempore.

Truman said he considered this more democratic because the speaker of the House and all House members have to be elected every two years while senators face the voters only every six. Not everyone agreed with him.

For instance, Edward S. Cowin, the constitutional authority, wrote: "The caliber of our speakers, in the main, has been somewhat below what the presidency requires and deserves. If speakers are compared with our secretaries of state, the result is decidedly in favor of the secretaries."

There was some irony in what followed. Truman had made his request to a Congress run by his own Democrats. They ignored him. He didn't get action until the Republicans took control of Congress in 1947.

They changed the law, making it a kind of combination of the 1886 and 1792 laws, for this was the result, still in effect:

Next in line behind the vice president are the speaker of the House, the Senate's president pro tempore, and the Cabinet, starting with the secretary of state.

This was doubly ironic, for when the Republicans passed this act, two Republicans were in line of succession to Democratic Truman if he died, since there was no vice president then: Speaker of the House Joseph W. Martin, of Massachusetts and Sen. Arthur H. Vandenberg of Michigan, president pro tempore of the Senate.

On Nov. 27 the nation got a close-up glimpse of the two elderly men — McCormack and Hayden — who are in the line of presidential succession if Johnson dies. On that day Johnson addressed a joint session of Congress on television and McCormack and Hayden were sitting right behind him.

In the past week there was increased discussion about the presidential succession. And former President Eisenhower, writing in the Saturday Evening Post, suggested the 1947 law be changed back to the 1886 law.

In short, he thinks the secretary of state and the other Cabinet members should be directly behind the vice president, not the two congressional officers.

But over the weekend McCormack said he favors the present law "not because I'm in it but because I feel it's the best way of solving the problem."

In view of this statement Congress isn't likely to change the law to eliminate McCormack and Hayden, particularly the House and particularly McCormack.

He's been a member of the House 35 years. The Democrats who run the House elected him speaker. They're not likely to do anything which might be

Says State Can Match Some Funds

LITTLE ROCK (AP) — Gov. Orval E. Faubus said today he feels sure Arkansas colleges will have "several million dollars" available to match federal funds provided in a $1 billion aid bill passed by the Senate and sent to the White House Tuesday.

The governor added that he does not think a special legislative session will be needed to authorize the colleges to spend whatever money they may get from federal sources.

The governor said it is regrettable that federal aid was not available in 1961 when the state launched a multimillion dollar college construction program.

Most of this money already has been spent or is under contract and the governor said he understood it would not be eligible for federal matching funds.

Faubus said he would check the comptroller's office to determine how much college construction money has been appropriated but not allocated.

The 1963 legislature made several college construction appropriations contingent on an unexpected increase in state revenues.

Faubus said these appropriations should open the door to sharing in the federal bonanza.

Rusk Has Good Word for DeGaulle

ST. PAUL, Minn. (AP)—The North Atlantic Treaty Alliance is solid and unified against any external threat and President Charles de Gaulle of France is a steady ally when issues of that type are involved, says Secretary of State Dean Rusk.

He added that while there are differences within Western Europe, it is possible now to say that "for the first time in history" a world war will not originate in a dispute within Western Europe.

The secretary spoke at a convention of the Farmer's Union Grain Terminal Association Tuesday night and held a news conference prior to the dinner.

Rusk said he hopes Congress will approve the full amount requested by the administration for foreign aid.

"We are in the struggle for peace for keeps, and foreign aid is a part of that effort. We can't afford to stop now. There is too much at stake," he added.

State First in Demolay Contest

The four categories won by Arkansas were for having the highest percentage of Blue Honor or Key winners, representative Demolay awards, mother's clubs and past master counselor

Cinch It With Grapefruit!

An easy and delicious way to melt inches is to enjoy fresh Florida golden grapefruit. Plump, juicy sections combine with low-calorie shrimp in scooped-out grapefruit shells, served with a zesty cocktail sauce.

For finger foods, affix raw vegetables such as cauliflowerettes, carrot curls, cucumber wedges and celery slices to a whole grapefruit with colorful picks—much easier on the waistline than starchy nibbles!

Grapefruit provides nutritional daily-needed vitamin C; half a medium-sized one contains only 50 calories for a satisfying and refreshing appetizer or dessert.

Low Calorie Grapefruit For D'Oeuvres

Cut desired amount Florida grapefruit in half. Cut around each section loosening fruit from membrane. Remove sections; reserve. Cut out core and dividing membrane. Measure grapefruit sections. Combine with equal amounts cooked and cooled seafood (shrimp, lobster or crabmeat, cut in large pieces). Fill into grapefruit "shell," use wooden picks to secure. Serve with Cocktail Sauce.

Cocktail Sauce

1 cup chili sauce or catsup
2 tablespoons lemon or lime juice
½ teaspoon Tabasco

Combine all ingredients. Use a Florida grapefruit "shell" as serving container.

Remove knife; insert to make opposite side of point. Continue around grapefruit following line to keep halves equal size. Pull apart. Follow directions for preparing shells.

Successor to Hendrix Named

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

LITTLE ROCK (AP) — Gov. Orval E. Faubus has named Lee Tucker of Benton, an AFL-CIO Steelworkers Union official, to complete the five-year term of Sen. Olen Hendrix of Prescott on the state Hospital Board.

The action was prompted by a state Supreme Court ruling last week that legislators cannot hold board and commission jobs.

Charge Filed in Fatal Shooting

NEWPORT, Ark. (AP)—First degree murder charges were filed today against Danny Roberts, 29, in the fatal shooting Sunday of Mrs. Betty Woods Piker in her home near Newport.

Dep. Pros. Atty. Phillip Hout, who filed the charge, said Mrs. Piker was shot once in the head with a .25 caliber pistol. Roberts was held in the Jackson County jail without bond.

7 Youths Charged for Burglaries

SEARCY, Ark. (AP)—Prosecutor Lloyd Henry filed charges today against seven young men in connection with a series of 30 burglaries in Searcy over the past four months.

Four of them are in custody and three others were still sought.

The burglaries included thefts at two tire shops the night of the disappearance of a Harding College English teacher, who later was found dead. But Henry said he did not believe the burglaries had anything to do with the disappearance of the teacher, Mrs. E. R. Stapleton, 57.

Held in the burglaries were Quinton Johnson and Kenneth Hopper of Higginson in White County, Jimmy Bridges of Judsonia and Ronnie Tuggle of Denmark.

Henry said all the men were about 20 years old.

Johnson was the only one charged in all the burglaries. Henry said he was arrested while attempting to burglarize the Langley Oil Co. on Highway 67 east of Searcy Sunday night.

Tuggle was arrested in Little Rock Tuesday and was being taken back to Searcy today. Hooper and Bridges were arrested in White County Tuesday.

Tuggle and Bridges were sentenced to five year prison terms for burglary last February, but in October Gov. Orval E. Faubus commuted their sentences and they were released.

Henry said all the youths probably would be tried in January.

The prosecutor said the investigation into the slaying of Mrs. Stapleton was continuing. He said the burglaries of the two tire shops occurred some two hours before Mrs. Stapleton disappeared from a washateria near the shops.

Mrs. Stapleton was found dead in woods near Searcy. No charges have been filed in her death.

The loot from the robberies has not been recovered. Henry said Johnson admitted the robberies and implicated the other youths.

Do We Need A New Calendar?

Since man first notched a stick, the calendar has caused problems. It has led to riots and to dissatisfactions that have caused cleavages in nations.

Our own present calendar is misleading and inaccurate. This chart, from Compton's Pictured Encyclopedia, shows the problems that are encountered in determining a date based on either the Julian or the Gregorian Calendar.

The basic problem is that our year actually is 365 days, 6 hours, 9 minutes, 10 seconds long. Thus, no calendar to date has given a true measure of our year.

A PERPETUAL CALENDAR

This calendar gives the day of the week for any date from the beginning of the Christian Era to the year 2100.

A novel about
BENEDICT ARNOLD

THE TWISTED SABER

THE STORY: Benedict's father, who drank to excess, is being held in New London for drunkenness. Benedict goes there to get him out of jail.

IV

The stench in the corridor was almost unbearable; although only a little heat drifted back to the three cells behind the constable's guard room, the air was stale. The rear cell was a tiny cubicle with a high, barred window covered with heavy oiled paper. A dirty, grey light filtered into the chamber. Benedict saw his father hunched on a pallet in the far corner, his face in his hands. The greatcoat that Hannah had patiently mended so often was torn again.

Benedict swallowed painfully. "Papa," he said. Mr. Arnold raised his head slowly. His eyes were bloodshot, he was badly in need of a shave, and his lower lip trembled when he recognized his son. Still he made a feeble attempt to smile.

"I ate something at an inn the other night that upset my digestion," he muttered. "I was feeling too poorly to travel the 12 miles upriver, and I didn't have the funds to pay for a bed. Constable Barton is a friend of mine — an old friend — ever since the days I was a town official in Norwich. So he gave me lodging."

"I'm taking you home, Papa," Benedict said gently. The crowd had become larger and more boisterous. Sailors from the two merchant ships were now mingling with the throng. Prosperous merchants in greatcoats with fur collars were making their way to 'The King's Arms, New London's leading inn; dockhands and laborers who had stored the cargo in warehouses were singing as they strolled toward the many taverns on High Street; and family men of every class, weavers and fishermen, public officials and farmers were shepherding their wives and children to shops where tea, chocolate-coated sweets and other delicacies from England could be purchased.

Benedict threaded his way through the crowd, speaking to no one. Surprised when a woman blocked his path, he tried to move past her, but she refused to stand aside.

"This is a fine town!" she shouted maliciously. "We don't want our roads littered with filthy old drunks!"

Someone on the far side of High Street agreed with her. "Drive them out!"

"Filthy old drunk!" she screamed. "Filthy old drunk!" Benedict could not silence her without causing more of a stir, so he increased his pace. Glancing over his shoulder, he saw his father staring straight ahead, pretending to be unaware of the commotion. Benedict knew he was suffering great mortification and hoped they could reach the open road at the north end of the town before worse happened.

But the woman, encouraged by several bystanders, had no intention of dropping the matter. The gutters outside the inns and taverns were littered with refuse. She stooped down, picked up a withered head of cabbage and threw it. Her aim was wild, but the apprentices were quick to join in the sport, and in a few moments Mr. Arnold was spattered with refuse.

Benedict wanted to halt and challenge the whole group to a fight, but he realized that the odds against him were too great. He could beat two or three of his father's tormentors to a pulp, but if he indulged his urge, the crowd would become an angry mob. Not afraid for himself, he would have welcomed a savage free-for-all. But he knew his father was defenseless, totally incapable of protecting himself.

Under no circumstances could Benedict allow his father to be injured, so he continued to walk up High Street, ignoring the jeering chant, "Filthy old drunk! Filthy old drunk!" By the time he reached the foot of the hill at the far end of High Street, he was spattered from head to foot, but he did not pause until he reached a patch of woods at the top of the hill. The crowd had dispersed now, so Benedict removed as much dirt as he could from his greatcoat, then turned to help his father.

Mr. Arnold, shaking uncontrollably, was clutching the pommel with both hands and tears were streaming down his face.

Benedict took a handkerchief from his pocket, wiped his father's eyes and tried to speak, but his fury was too great. Turning, he looked down at the crowd on High Street. He and his father were forgotten, but he swore he would remember New London as long as he lived. Nor would he rest until he repaid its citizens in their own coin.

Pope Willing to Meet With Athenagoras

VATICAN CITY (AP) — A Vatican official said today Pope Paul VI has indicated a willingness to meet Patriarch Athenagoras I, spiritual leader of world Orthodoxy, during the Roman Catholic leader's trip to the Holy Land Jan. 4-6.

The official said the Pope informed Athenagoras about the purpose of his Holy Land trip and in doing so indicated a willingness to meet the patriarch in Palestine if Athenagoras decides to go there.

In announcing his unprecedented trip a week ago, Pope Paul said he hoped it would serve the cause of Christian unity.

Athenagoras, spiritual leader of 150 million Orthodox Christians, proposed last Friday that a Christian summit meeting be held in the Holy Land during the Pope's visit there.

The official said the Pope had no mention in his letter of Athenagoras' proposal for a conference of Christian leaders.

No Roman Catholic pontiff and Orthodox patriarch have met since the East-West schism of 1054.

Anytime of year is "pie" time of year, so how about a delicious Mince-Apple Pie for dinner tonight. Hot from the oven, fragrant and good, it will be the feature attraction. Your pastry will be extra tender and light if you prepare it with enriched self-rising flour. Self-rising flour has added leavening (salt, also) that practically guarantees you tender pastry that will be proud to serve.

A decorative pastry top will make your pie more attractive. Try this circular one or experiment with others such as lattice, leaf or overlapping circle designs.

MINCE-APPLE PIE
1 1/2 cups sifted enriched self-rising flour
1/2 cup shortening
4 to 6 tablespoons cold water
Measure flour into bowl. Cut or rub in shortening until mixture is crumbly. Sprinkle with water, mixing lightly until dough begins to stick together. Turn out on lightly floured board or pastry cloth and press dough together. Cut off about 1/4 of pastry. Roll out larger portion to circle. 1/4-inch thick and fit into 9-inch pie pan. Trim and flute edge. Fill with Mince-meat Filling. Roll out remaining pastry and cut with pastry wheel or sharp knife into strips 1/4-inch wide. Arrange in circles over filling. Bake in hot oven (450°F.) 25 minutes. Reduce heat to moderate (350°F.) and bake 30 minutes longer.

MINCEMEAT FILLING
8 cups prepared mince-meat
1 cup finely chopped apple
Mix together mince-meat and apples. Spoon into pie shell. Makes 2 9-inch pies.

Soybeans Giving Mkt. Indigestion

By SAM DAWSON
AP Business News Analyst

NEW YORK (AP) — Soybean oil and stock brokering, tossed in an unsavory salad, have given Wall Street one of its worst spells of indigestion in years.

Stocks are involved, because some brokerage houses deal both in security trading and commodity futures. The New York Stock Exchange has authorized up to $12 million to help the innocent bystanders, some of the 20,000 customers of IRA Haupt & Co., a member firm, who saw their securities accounts suddenly frozen because of disastrous deals in the commodity markets in which they were in no way directly involved.

Many of the 17 million Americans who own stocks until now may have paid little mind to commodity markets.

Here, in simplified terms, is what commodity futures trading normally is. (The Haupt affair started this way but went into a maze of dealings far beyond the scope of ordinary commodity futures trading.)

Commodity futures are contracts for delivery of a specified amount of a given grain, fiber, metal, or other goods, at a fixed price at some future date. Say, 60,000 pounds of soybean oil, for X-dollars next January. Actually, most contracts are settled without delivering or receiving the physical commodity. The contracts, in short, are bought and sold like stock certificates. The difference between the price specified in the contract and the market price at the time the contract expires constitutes the profit or loss.

Those who first offer the contracts usually are the growers, dealers or producers of basic raw materials, who have the commodity on hand but want to hedge against the risk of sharp and unpredictable price movements. A sudden Soviet offer to buy wheat, for example, can overnight affect the going price for the grain — and so can the weather conditions.

The hedge works like this: To protect his holdings in soybeans, say, the dealer or processor may go short by having his broker sell January contract at the prevailing present price. If the price does fall, he can fulfill his contract and use this profit to offset the lower value of the same beans he holds. If the price rises between now and January, he is ahead on the commodity he holds and thus offsets any loss in settling his futures contract.

Contracts are mostly bought by speculators willing to take on the price change risks the hedger seeks to side step. Speculators buy a contract specifying a certain price at a definite future date because they are betting the present price will hit that figure.

Margins in commodity future trading are very small by stock trading standards — 5 to 10 percent in cash for commodities compared to the present 70 percent cash requirement in stocks. Thus the leverage and chances of making a big profit are much larger in trading on margin in commodities than in stocks — and the risks are correspondingly greater, too, if you guess wrong.

In One Way the U.S. Has Been Lucky

By JAMES MARLOW
Associated Press News Analyst

WASHINGTON (AP) — The United States has been lucky in a grisly way, because death was choosy.

Eight presidents have died in office, four of them assassinated. Seven vice presidents have died in office.

Death never tapped a president and vice president in any single four-year term.

But now once again, with Vice President Lyndon B. Johnson moved up to the presidency, there is no vice president. The law which provides for a successor to Johnson, if the president died, is a lot more pretentious looking than it really is.

Next in line for the presidency, when there is no president or vice president, are these people in this order:

John W. McCormack of Massachusetts, 71, speaker of the House; Sen. Carl Hayden of Arizona, 86, president pro tempore of the Senate; and the Cabinet, starting with Secretary of State Dean Rusk.

This order of succession, laid down by Congress in 1947, seems to be generously spread out over the government. That's misleading.

If Speaker McCormack became the president, he would automatically have to resign from Congress and give up the speakership.

It's a safe bet this would follow quickly.

The House would elect another speaker. Then, if McCormack died, the new speaker of the House would be next in Succession, not the Senate's president pro tempore or any member of the Cabinet.

Since McCormack says he favors the law which puts him next in line to Johnson, there is almost no chance the House will change the order of succession.

Thus, the House, under ordinary circumstances, has a stranglehold on the line of presidential succession.

Three events could change that but all would have to be extraordinary and seem remote now:

1. The speaker who became president might die—he'd have to die pretty quickly—before the House had a chance to pick a new speaker.

If so, the Senate's president pro tempore would become the president. Then the new speaker, when elected, could not be president although he would be No. 1 in line of succession if the new president died.

2. In this nuclear age — in case of attack — so many top officials might be wiped out that only some surviving Cabinet member, if any, would be left under the 1947 law to assume the presidency.

3. Or, their might be an assassination plot to kill the president, vice president, speaker and Senate president pro tempore. If it succeeded, the secretary of state would become president.

While John Wilkes Booth killed President Lincoln, his plot called for assassinating Vice President Andrew Johnson, too, and Cabinet members.

One Cabinet member, Secretary of State William H. Seward was seriously stabbed. The would-be killer of Johnson got cold feet and Johnson was able to succeed Lincoln.

State Water Problems Relieved

LITTLE ROCK (AP)—Recent rains have reduced water supply problems in 19 Arkansas cities until they are no longer on the state Health Department's critical list.

Glen T. Kellogg, chief sanitary engineer for the state agency, said the problems probably will continue until water supply sources are replenished next spring but that there are no serious problems at this time.

The Health Department and local government's in the af-

Exhibits Planned for Tourists

LITTLE ROCK (AP)—Arkansas will bid for tourists by placing exhibits at vacation and travel shows in at least five major cities next year.

Africans worked frantically through the drought drilling wells, seeking new springs and pumping water from distant reservoirs in the 19 communities, mostly in North Arkansas.

At one time, Huntsville was down to a 10-day supply of water but Kellogg said the War Eagle River, from which Huntsville gets its water, is flowing again and the city is out of trouble.

The state Publicity and Parks Commission's current schedule calls for exhibits in Kansas City Jan. 31-Feb. 9, St. Louis and Chicago Feb. 21-March 1, Tulsa March 17-22 and Los Angeles April 2-12.

The program of exhibits was initiated several years ago and at one time Arkansas made appearances in more than a dozen cities. The program was cut back, after the state learned it was not reaping enough benefits from exhibits in such cities as Omaha, Cleveland and Cincinnati to warrant the expense.

The commission budgets about $15,000 a year for such exhibits, but the total amount is seldom used.

Evans said each show costs about $2,000.

Tractor Injuries Prove Fatal

FAYETTEVILLE, Ark. (AP)—An 81-year-old farmer died in a Fayetteville hospital today of injuries suffered last May 30 when his tractor overturned on him.

The victim was Elmer Leonard Bassham of Prairie Grove, 11 miles southwest of Fayetteville.

He was trapped for five hours under the tractor before his daughter, Mrs. A. C. Purseley found him. Jimmy Smith, a Prairie Grove fireman and wrecker operator, freed him with the aid of volunteers.

New and Easy Money-Saving Main Dish

A new way with budget-minded chicken is this one-pot chicken dinner. After the chicken is simmered to tenderness, rice is cooked in the seasoned broth and made creamy smooth with evaporated milk. Then peas and carrots are added to complete the chicken dinner.

- One-pot Chicken Dinner
- 1/4 cup shortening
 - 2 1/2 to 3 lb. chicken, cut up
 - 1 small onion, chopped
 - 4 cups water
 - 1 teaspoon salt
 - 1/4 teaspoon pepper
 - 1 tall can evaporated milk (1 1/2 cups)
 - 1 cup uncooked rice
 - 2 cups canned peas and carrots

Melt shortening in a large kettle over medium heat. Add chicken pieces and fry, turning pieces to brown on all sides. Add onion and water and bring to a boil. Reduce heat to low, cover kettle and cook until chicken is tender, about 45 minutes. Remove chicken from broth and set aside. Measure broth in kettle and add sufficient water to make 5 cups total liquid. Return liquid to kettle, then add salt, pepper and evaporated milk. Bring to a boil over medium heat. Stir in rice gradually. Continue cooking, stirring occasionally, until rice is tender and mixture thickened, 25 to 30 minutes. Carefully stir chicken pieces and peas and carrots into rice mixture and continue cooking until chicken is completely heated, about 5 minutes longer. Makes 6 servings.

Water From Broken Main Freezes

KANSAS CITY (AP)—A large water main burst just before the morning rush hours today, tying up traffic in the downtown business district.

A monumental traffic jam developed even before the main burst began as thousands of cars and buses were backed up while police struggled to reroute the vehicles to other open, but already congested routes.

The break occurred in Penn Valley Park near 29th and Broadway.

As the water poured down the cup-shaped park quickly froze in the 18-degree weather, cold yet this season. Streets were iced over a six-block area.

The icing conditions blocked Southwest Trafficway, a six-lane thoroughfare; Broadway, a four-lane artery, and Wyandotte Street.

Congressman Goes Down a Manhole

By STANLEY MEISLER

WASHINGTON (AP)—Fred Schwengel, tall, rugged and 56, heaved a manhole cover to the side and started to climb down a hole in the ground behind the U.S. Capitol.

"This will make some story," he said with a laugh. "A congressman going down a manhole."

As he started to descend, a little boy spotted him and called out from afar: "Hey, Mr. Schwengel, is it Groundhog Day?"

It wasn't Groundhog Day.

It was a normal exploration—in pursuit of a hobby—in the life of Fred Schwengel, a Republican congressman from Iowa, a man who surely knows more about the byways and history of the Capitol than any other man who works there.

Schwengel's knowledge and enthusiasm about the Capitol have come to public notice in the last week with the publication of "We The People." It is a lavishly illustrated history of the Capitol, produced by the National Geographic Society and sponsored by Schwengel's U.S. Capitol Historical Society.

On the day he descended into the manhole, Schwengel, flush with the news that the book was a best seller, was taking a group of newsmen, their wives and children on a tour of those recesses of the Capitol hardly anyone but Schwengel ever sees.

The tour could be compared only with storied and movie-land tours of the sewers of Paris, of the hidden corridors in the Phantom's Opera, of the subways of New York, of the secret passageways of a medieval castle.

Before the tour, Schwengel talked a bit about his early interest in history.

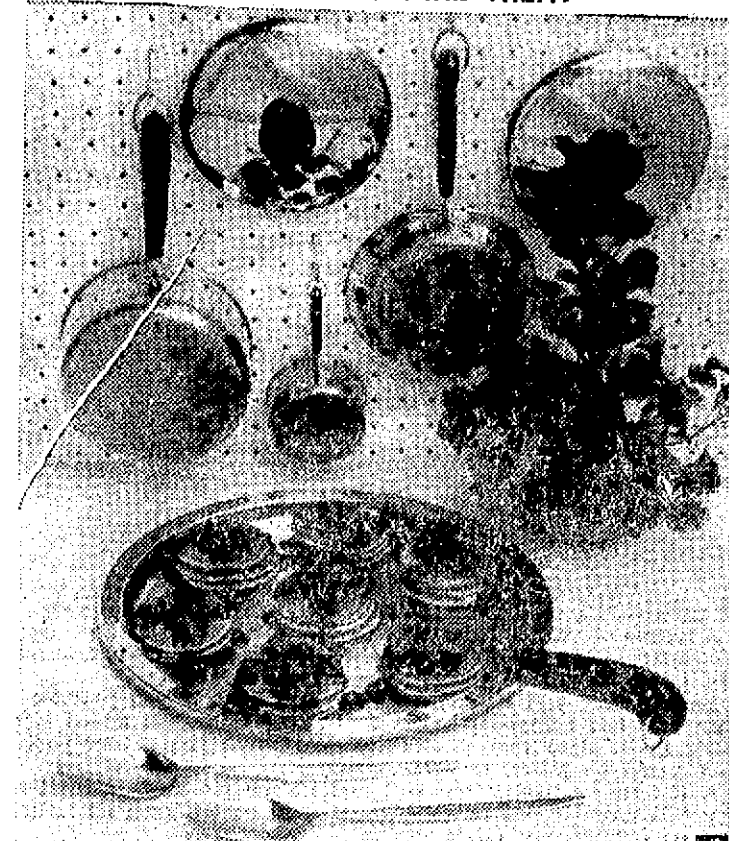

"When I came to Washington as a congressman in 1955," he said, "my interest quickened. I was in the capital of the world. There was so much history around me. I became so interested that I gave up golf to have more time for reading and exploring."

But, he continued, he soon found out that there wasn't a good one-volume book written on the Capitol.

"I had been using one written in the 19th century," he said. "That was my bible on the Capitol. In that book, the author says there are 13 columns on top of the Capitol dome holding up the statue of Freedom there, one column for each of the 13 original colonies. I always thought that was a beautiful idea."

"Then one day I climbed up and counted them. There are only 12 columns. I decided a

HOLIDAY PANCAKE TREAT

Do cranberries always belong with the turkey? Not so. From the Revere Ware consumer kitchens comes a new idea—and a nice surprise—for a holiday treat.

Holiday Pancakes With Cranberry Sauce

3 cups pancake batter (homemade or packaged)
2 tablespoons orange juice concentrate

Combine pancake batter and orange juice. Bake in small cakes, using about 2 tablespoons batter per cake, on a lightly greased griddle until bubbly and browned underneath. Turn to brown the other side. Serve hot with cranberry sauce. Makes about 24 small pancakes.

CRANBERRY SAUCE

2 cups water
2 cups cranberries
3 tablespoons orange juice concentrate
2 cups sugar
2 tablespoons cornstarch
2 tablespoons cold water

In saucepan combine the 2 cups water, cranberries, orange juice concentrate and sugar. Bring to a boil and simmer for 10 minutes. Stir in cornstarch mixed with the 2 tablespoons cold water and cook, stirring, until liquid is clear and slightly thickened.

Laboratory in Space Is Planned

By ELTON C. FAY
AP Military Writer

WASHINGTON (AP)—Groundwork for the Pentagon's "new" program for manned orbiting laboratories has been under way for months, with both the Air Force and the civilian space agency in on the preliminaries.

Secretary of Defense Robert S. McNamara put the project into high gear Tuesday with his announcement that the Air Force had been assigned full responsibility for running it.

The aim is to have an initial model of a "Gemini-X," without men aboard, in near-earth orbit in the first half of 1966 and to have the full-sized, manned laboratory aloft about four years from now.

Contracts for studies on the project already had been either let or invited by both the Air Force and Space Agency and the designing of the super-powerful Titan III rocket booster was well along before the formal announcement.

Schwengel and others organized the U.S. Capitol Historical Society in October 1962, and the history, "We The People," published last week, is the society's first production. The book sells for $1 in the Capitol rotunda.

Farm Training

LITTLE ROCK (AP)—The Federal government has approved four 16-week training courses in Arkansas for all-around farm machinery operators. Under the program forty operators would be trained in Ashley County, 100 in Phillips County, 101 in Desha County and 24 in Drew county. The state Employment Security Division will select trainees and the state Education Department will train the men.

In disclosing the space laboratory venture, McNamara also announced termination of the Dyna-Soar orbital glider project.

A Pentagon spokesman said today that under an agreement between the Pentagon and the National Aeronautics and Space Administration it expects NASA will make available to the Air Force the data from its own studies of the feasibility and technique for multi-manned laboratories.

NASA announced award of one such study contract earlier this month to Douglas Aircraft Co. This study is aimed at refining NASA's concept of "a cylindrical six-man spacecraft" put into orbit by a big booster rocket.

In talking to newsmen Tuesday, McNamara side-stepped the question of how many men would be carried in the Air Force version. He said only that it would be more than two men (the number of NASA's own Gemini capsule project).

Global Cold War Changes Probable

By WILLIAM L. RYAN
AP Special Correspondent

Premier Khrushchev has placed before the Soviet Communist party a program suggesting he wants to erect a monument to himself by plunging the Soviet Union into an economic revolution.

If he gets his program on the road, it can signal sharp changes in the global cold war.

Khrushchev's program raises a possibility that the premier—who will be 70 in April—hopes to bequeath to the people something which will start them toward a more abundant consumer economy. At last the Soviet people were being told they were entitled to more consumer goods.

The program involves massive investment—the equivalent of $46 billion—in the chemical industry in a 7-year plan. This cure-all proposal to attack agriculture's ailments and begin providing the people with adequate supplies of both food and consumer goods in all likelihood will require cuts in heavy industry investment.

There will be grumbling and sullen opposition in high places, notably among many unreconstructed Stalinists and among the high military brass to whom heavy industry means promise of superiority in super-weapons, space and world power.

The current Central Committee meeting could mark a historic turning by the government toward its domestic problems. That in turn might mean Moscow would want to avoid dangerous cold war confrontations with the United States.

The people have been long plagued by shortages and irritated by lack of quality and quantity in consumer goods.

The Soviet Union must buy grain abroad today to counter disastrous shortages caused by farm failures. Popular opinion must be taken into consideration by the party and government. The public obviously is tired of slogans and promises.

This will earn Khrushchev more enmity from the Communist Chinese and from those in the Communist world—in the Soviet Union as well as abroad

Oklahoma TV Station Sold

MUSKOGEE, Okla. (AP)—John Griffin and James C. Leake of Muskogee have bought all the outstanding common and preferred stock of KWTB, Channel 9, in Oklahoma City, it was announced Tuesday.

Griffin and Leake, who already owned 50 per cent of the stock in the station, bought the 25 per cent holdings of former Gov. Roy J. Turner and Luther Dulaney and the preferred stock interest of Edgar T. Bell in the controlling company, Oklahoma City TV Corp. Bell will remain as vice president and manager.

The purchase is subject to Federal Communications Commission approval of an application filed Tuesday.

Griffin and Leake made the purchase through KATV, Inc., and said KWTB and two other stations already owned, KTUL-TV of Tulsa and KATV of Little Rock, would be merged into the KATV corporation.

—who believe Communist world aims must come first.

There is strong evidence of unhappiness with the program in high places.

British and Germans Are in Accord

BONN, Germany (AP)—British Foreign Secretary Richard A. Butler and West German leaders achieved a broad agreement today that will promote Western unity, a joint communiqué said.

Butler met with Chancellor Ludwig Erhard and Foreign Minister Gerhard Schröder at the end of a two-day visit in Bonn aimed at establishing closer relations between the two North Atlantic Treaty nations.

The communiqué said: "The welcome agreement will make future negotiations between the two countries easier." It announced similar talks will be conducted regularly in the future.

Erhard and British Prime Minister Sir Alec Douglas-Home, both new in government leadership, are seeking to end the era of mistrust between Britain and West Germany. The new chancellor has a reputation of being pro-British.

Erhard expressed to Butler "the hope that Great Britain can be brought closer to Europe," government spokesman Karl Guenther von Hase told a news conference.

The communiqué said Butler and Schröder agreed that "it is important to continue to seek possibilities for an improvement of East-West relations."

West Germany long has been less enthusiastic about these than Britain, for fear that hopes for German reunification will be dashed.

"As before," the communiqué said, "the question is whether the Soviet Union is truly ready to work for agreements that would reduce tensions and not just bring one-side advantages to the Soviet Union."

The communiqué pledged the two nations to continue support the regular contacts between Britain and the Common Market that have been set up through the seven-nation Western European Union.

These contacts are aimed at keeping alive hopes for Britain's eventual entry into the Common Market and in the meantime minimizing the adverse effects of its exclusion.

The foreign secretary and his delegation attempted to ease West German concern about the details of British foreign policy toward the Communist bloc. Bonn has long feared that the British might show too much softness.

China's Chou Will Visit Albania

By ARTHUR GAVSHON
LONDON (AP)—Diplomats given annually to the outstanding artillery battery in the 39th Division. It is commanded by Capt. Billy Evans of Green Forest.

said today Premier Chou En-Lai of Red China will interrupt a tour of Africa briefly to visit Peking's lone friend in Europe, Albania.

The diplomatic authorities said the Chinese Communist leader's campaign to win friends and influence people will take him through nine African countries.

Albania is the only Communist nation in Europe to give its full support to the Chinese in their ideological dispute with the Soviet Communists.

Unrepentant exiles from the Soviet block, Albania's Communist rulers back the hard line of Peking against the coexistence policy of Premier's Khrushchev.

Therefore Chou's appearance in Tirana, Albania's capital, almost certainly could:

1. Have the effect of deepening the Peking-Moscow political dispute.
2. Be regarded as an official blessing by the Peking government for the stand the Albanians have taken against the Russians.

Peking has not yet announced Chou's detailed itinerary. But a check among African and European diplomats shows that Chou and a big entourage will be visiting the following:

The United Arab Republic, Algeria, Morocco, Albania, Ghana, Mali, Guinea, Tanganyika, Uganda and the Somali Republic.
